NUTRITION, WEIGHT LOSS & FITNESS

HEART HEALTH AND WALNUTS

Most nuts appear to be generally healthy, but some may have more heart-healthy nutrients than others. For example, walnuts contain high amounts of omega-3 fatty acids. Almonds, macadamia nuts, hazelnuts and pecans also appear to be quite heart healthy.

A serving of walnuts is roughly 1 ounce, or about ¼ cup. However, some studies suggest eating 1.5 to 2 ounces may be beneficial to reap the health benefits walnuts offer. With this in mind, and considering walnuts are calorically dense, I recommend aiming for about a handful a day to reap their many health benefits. Adding walnuts to your smoothies, salads, shakes, breakfast cereal and desserts is also a good idea.

HEALTHFUL LIVING

A Weekly Guide to Health Awareness

YOGA POSE OF THE WEEK - Supine Spinal Twist (Supta Matsyendrasana)

A passive twist is a classic way to end a yoga session, although there's no rule against doing this yoga pose at the beginning of your practice. The position of the legs is up to you.

You can bend them both; you can straighten the top leg and hold onto your foot if you have the flexibility, or you can twist your legs around one another (as in Eagle pose) to stretch the outer hips. Keep knees in line with your waist.

SUPINE SPINAL TWIST

TIP

Keep both of your shoulders flat on the ground throughout the pose, even if your knee floats up a bit.

VITAMIN HIGHLIGHT - Vitamin C

Once you have cold symptoms, drink orange or grapefruit juice to help yourself stay hydrated. Your symptoms may not go away any sooner, but staying hydrated can help you feel better while your symptoms run their course. Your body also needs vitamin C to help your bones, skin, and muscles grow. You'll get enough by including bell peppers, papaya, strawberries, broccoli, cantaloupe, leafy greens, and other fruits and veggies in your diet.

POLICE - COMMUNITY PARTNERSHIPS

Every year on the first Tuesday in August, this year on August 6, the United States and Canada celebrate National Night Out day. Civilians, organizations, and the Metropolitan Police Department join hands to enhance the relationship between neighborhoods and communities. They look at this as a great way to bring everyone together for a positive cause.

HISTORY OF NATIONAL NIGHT OUT

The origins of National Night Out day begin with Matt Peskin, way back in 1970. Peskin was a regular volunteer for the Lower Merion Community Watch program — which worked with the Lower Merion Police Department in the western suburbs of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. Peskin would often patrol local areas and soon introduced a newsletter on community successes and local volunteer work. This was when he realized that new content for the newsletter was very difficult to find. He began reaching out to the surrounding communities for help and noticed they all had local groups of neighborhood watches but no way to connect to or even identify other groups. Neighborhood watches as a concept began in the U.S. in the late 1960s. As incidents of criminal activities rose in this period, the collective consensus was that the U.S. needed local watch groups that were focused on residential areas. The National Sheriffs' Association partly funded the creation of the National Neighborhood Watch program in the 1970s, and local groups have been contributing to safety and security since then.

Almost 10 years later, Peskin established his own group — the National Association of Town Watch. This group linked all neighborhood town watches, provided them with resources, and gave them assets to help them stay up and running. Three years later, we got our holiday. By the time this event came around, Peskin and the National Association of Town Watch had created a large network of law enforcement agencies, neighborhood watch groups, civic groups, state and regional crime prevention associations, and even volunteers across the U.S. The first celebration was huge — 2.5 million neighbors from 400 communities in 23 states. Recently, the Dog Walker Watch has joined this program, and now, our canine neighbors are patrolling and keeping our communities safe, right alongside humans.

HOW TO CELEBRATE NATIONAL NIGHT OUT

- Attend a National Night Out celebration - Many states including New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Minneapolis, and California host annual celebrations on this day. Check state websites and news online to find events around you, and make sure to attend one.

- Volunteer for various activities - Another way to help out is to find various volunteering opportunities from official websites. They might need event organizers, social media experts, or even someone to handle queries.

- Buy official merchandise - The official National Night Out website (natw.org) offers various products for sale. At present, they have shirts, caps, banners, accessories, and other giveaways specially branded for these celebrations. Grab a few different items and hand them out to friends, too, to raise more awareness about this day.

5 FUN FACTS ABOUT NATIONAL NIGHT OUT

1. Texas celebrates on a different day - While the rest of the country observes this day on the first Tuesday in August, Texas celebrates it on the first Tuesday in October.
2. The first celebrations were simple - The initial festivities included neighbors sitting in front of their homes with the porch lights on.
3. The popularity is growing - While the first celebration included 2.5 million residents, by 2016, 35 million U.S. citizens had joined in these festivities.
4. The celebrations vary wildly - The festivities can be as simple as backyard cookouts or as large-scale as exhibits, fun rides, sports tournaments, and even floats.
5. The largest celebration - Multiple websites state that the South Central Hilltop Block Watch in Columbus has the largest celebration, including live music, food, and amazing entertainment.

WHY WE LOVE NATIONAL NIGHT OUT

- This day links communities - This nationwide event bridges the gap between states and between local communities within them. Their resources, assets, and information are easily shared via common platforms.
- It helps people see officers in a better light - The more police persons and law enforcement interact with the common public — a key focus of these celebrations — the better their relationship gets. This is also a great opportunity for the two groups to partner up to prevent crimes.
- It brings neighborhoods together - The camaraderie that builds as neighbors come together to celebrate this day cannot be overlooked. The celebrations that mark this day bring people together, making them more likely to get involved in the community and local crime-fighting programs.

You don't need a special reason to give blood. You just need your own reason.

- Some of us give blood because we were asked by a friend.
- Some know that a family member or friend might need blood some day.

Whatever your reason, the need is constant and your contribution is important for a healthy and reliable blood supply. And you'll feel good knowing you've helped change a life. To learn more, visit www.redcross.org

Greater Atlantic City Concierge Association's Hot Spot:
Back Bay Ale House

Submitted by: Judy Brenna, GACCA Communications Director
 Catering & Events Director, Blue Dog Hospitality Group

Name of venue: Back Bay Ale House

Where are you located? 800 N New Hampshire Ave in Atlantic City

What are your hours of operation? We are open Monday through Sunday, from 11 am until we close!

Parking directions/tips: There are a bunch of parking spots on the street and around the basin.

Tell us a little about yourself? Located in the Inlet section of Atlantic City, our restaurant offers a unique menu in a charming atmosphere with stunning bay views. Also, come check out our cargo container bar & outside bar. When you visit Back Bay Ale house you get that one-of-a-kind, Key West feeling! Enjoy casual dining during the warmer months on our deck while you embrace one of our Sunset Toasts. And (drums rolls), we are now open YEAR-ROUND. See you soon!

What does your venue specialize in? Home of the Basin Mason! We are famous for our cocktail selections served in 16 oz pint glasses or our famous 32-ounce mason jars!

What is the current reason one MUST come to see you? The view is like no other. Because we are located on the inlet we get the most majestic view of the sunsets every day.

What is your secret favorite that the crowds have yet to discover? We have a slew of new menu items for Summer 2024 like our Fried Burrata, Our Back Bay Poutine (with Pulled Korean Beef), and our Jerk Chicken Wrap.

Do you have a signature drink? Our Blueberry Lemonade Basin Mason is a tried-and-true crowd favorite, made with Cruzan Blueberry Lemonade Rum, Club Soda, Muddled Mint and Fresh Blueberries

Why is your venue a necessary part of Atlantic City? This Historic Gardiner's Basin has always been Atlantic City's best kept secret, fostering great food, culture, and environmental awareness over the years, and every venue in this area has an integral part to play. Back Bay continues in the tradition of restoring Atlantic City to it's peak potential by offering top quality food, beverages, customer service, ambience and entertainment, to perpetuate positive tourism in the city.

Would you like to highlight a star employee? Honestly, all of our staff are equally awesome! We have the friendliest staff in Atlantic City!

Please share any important information locals and visitors should know about: It's important for visitors to note, we do not take reservations and operate on a first come, first serve basis. We have implemented a new seating app and have seen HUGE improvements in table quote times. We have also added some more picnic tables for seating and a porch bar for you to grab a drink (or some to-go food) to walk around with while you wait for your table. The Porch Bar features ten seats (the tiniest bar in AC) and is open daily. During our in-season months, we cannot easily accommodate large parties and will need to break up any large parties into different sections and servers so as not to overwhelm our kitchen, large parties are considered 12 or more people.

RIP CURRENTS HOW TO AVOID & SURVIVE

A rip current is a specific kind of water current that can occur near beaches with breaking waves. A rip current is a strong, localized, and narrow current of water which moves directly away from the shore, cutting through the lines of breaking waves like a river running out to sea.

- Check water conditions before going in by looking at the local beach forecast before you leave for the beach and talking to the lifeguard at the beach.
- Only swim at a beach with lifeguards. The chances of drowning at a beach with lifeguards are 1 in 18 million (U.S. Lifesaving Association).
- Don't assume! Great weather for the beach does not always mean it's safe to swim or even play in the shallows. Rip currents often form on calm, sunny days.
- Moving at speeds of up to eight feet per second, rip currents can move faster than an Olympic swimmer.
- Panicked swimmers often try to counter a rip current by swimming straight back to shore—putting themselves at risk of drowning because of fatigue.
- Lifeguards rescue tens of thousands of people from rip currents in the U.S. every year, but it is estimated that 100 people are killed by rip currents annually.
- If caught in a rip current, don't fight it! Swim parallel to the shore and swim back to land at an angle.

RATHA MOEUY & Nala

*R*atha Moeuy of Fall River, Massachusetts, is studying computer networking at Bristol Community College. The picture shows Ratha, wearing a Boston Red Sox baseball cap, a blue shirt, and dark gray shorts, sitting on the floor of the Eustis Lounge at The Seeing Eye. He has his arms around his first Seeing Eye dog, a golden retriever named Nala, who is lying across his lap with her head up to look at the camera.

“I first heard about The Seeing Eye from a teacher in grade school. I thought, ‘A dog? Why would I need a dog? A dog won’t do anything for me.’ I’m a proficient cane user, and I was very skeptical that a dog would be better. I was set in my ways,” he said.

“Now that I have Nala, it amazes me how much I’ve been able to accomplish in such a short amount of time. The ability to maneuver around obstacles without having to stop and identify them, the ability to move at top speed... it’s just amazing,” he said.

“A cane is just an object. It’s a tool. But Nala is a companion. She’s always there for me. When we are working, we are very serious, and when we play, we play hard. We’re a great team.” ■

American Artist Appreciation Month is celebrated across the U.S. throughout August. From Andy Warhol to Georgia O'Keeffe, America has been home to many extraordinary artists throughout history. American Artist Appreciation Month was started with the simple aim to celebrate artists and the incredible work that they do. Art is not just something beautiful to look at, it also reflects the human condition, emotions, and ambitions. Art portrays what we are trying to convey when words fail. Celebrate the month by discovering new American artists or revisiting the artworks that you love. You can even check out local museums and galleries to support local artists.

HISTORY OF AMERICAN ARTIST APPRECIATION MONTH

We don't really know who or how American Artist Appreciation Month started but it is clear that, through August, we are encouraged to celebrate American artists and the incredible works that they have created. Creating a piece of art might be a solitary task, yet artwork is often consumed and appreciated by the masses. Looking at artwork in person is known to kindle feelings of awe, empathy, and appreciation for humanity.

The United States has a long and rich artistic history. It stretches from the earliest indigenous cultures to the modern-day globalization of contemporary art. Long before European settlers arrived on the American shores, Native American peoples were already crafting ritual and utilitarian objects in the image of their natural environment and beliefs. After the arrival of the Europeans, artists imitated the European styles in portraiture and landscape painting to correctly represent the new landscape. However, it was not until the middle of the 19th century with the Hudson River School that American artists could launch a cohesive movement. Through the early 20th century, artists would still seek inspiration from European avant-garde groups but they shifted their focus to urban American centers and the more rural Midwest. After World War II, artists in America started the Abstract Expressionist movement, which brought them international fame for the first time. American artistic influence was finally being recognized abroad, and later Minimalism and Pop Art made great waves in the international art community. Over the years, America became home to important museums, art centers, and schools, and now with the influence of social media and digital platforms, the nation is seeing a rise in a more individualistic approach to art.

HOW TO CELEBRATE AMERICAN ARTIST APPRECIATION MONTH

- Support local artists - What better way to celebrate American Artist Appreciation Month than by supporting local and emerging artists? Buy their art and give them a shoutout on your social media account.
- Visit a museum - Visit museums, exhibitions, and art galleries to check out the latest display or revisit your favorite artworks. Visit as many art venues in your city as you can.
- Read an artist's biography - Want to know more about your favorite artists and their creative process? Read a biography about them or watch a movie based on their life.

WHY WE LOVE AMERICAN ARTIST APPRECIATION MONTH

- It celebrates artists - Artists bring us joy and comfort through their artworks. American Artist Appreciation Month is a month-long celebration that conveys our gratitude to artists.
- It helps us explore new art - This is the perfect time to explore new artists and art styles. You could discover something new in not just painting but also pottery, architecture, or photography.
- It celebrates America's rich artistic history - Along with exemplary artists and their artworks, American Artist Appreciation Month also celebrates the various art schools and movements that emerged in the U.S.
